

What is the point?

- I use numbers to learn about how people work.
- If I had clean data, the analysis would be easy.
- Cleaning the data is most of the work of an analysis.
- I know enough about computers to do all this, but you shouldn't need to.